

Dalton Boggs & Associates is conducting a search for a highly qualified Geologist for a privately held Denver, Colorado company that engages in the acquisition, exploration, production and disposition of oil and gas properties in the Permian Basin. This is an opportunity to participate in royalty trust and profit sharing.

This client is looking for a proven prospect generator with a strong track record, and a minimum of 10 years of Permian Basin experience. Experience with a major oil company is a plus. The right individual can work remotely with the Denver office.

The compensation package is competitive and includes a comprehensive benefits package. Details will be provided at the appropriate time.

If you, or someone you know, is interested in this exciting opportunity, please contact:
